

LESSON 1: Sector Definitions

Provides a range of services to support businesses or individuals in areas such as legal, financial, design, sales, insurance and more

Prepares land and constructs buildings and structures as well as modification or repair of existing buildings or structures

Responsible for managing the movement of people, products and services through road, air, water and pipeline

Provides services in the areas of tourism, lodging, event planning, theme parks, restaurants and retail establishments

Provides goods and services to treat patients in every stage of care from prevention to cure

Engages in converting raw materials through mechanical, physical or chemical transformations into new products

Provides services for citizens through organizations that are generally owned and operated by the government